One teacher I remember, and why.	My maths teacher, who helped me catch up.	My mother Isabel, a philosophy teacher, who worked for equality between men and women.	My teacher, Julie. She worked on my overall personality and helped me a lot.	Brother Lawrence. He was a friend and guide for the entire class.	My first boss. He taught me the importance of results.
One most valuable work lesson, thus far.	Hard work.	Good job for people.	Remain focussed and work hard.	People are everything.	If you plan well, anything is achievable.
One thing I look for the most in a new recruit.	Concentration level.	Trust.	To think beyond what is currently happening.	Attitude.	Passion and commitment.
One thought from a book that I am currently reading.	Patience.	Development depends on education.	Economics is a scientific study of cumulative human behaviour.	Happiness is the absence of pain. The Wisdom of Life , by Arthur Schopenhauer.	The future always happens. The Foundation by Isaac Asimov.
One tip for time management.	Take time for oneself.	Respect others' time.	Plan in advance.	Maintain a meeting calendar.	Set priorities.
One key thing in my fitness routine.	Walk daily.	Pray to your God.	Playing lawn tennis on a daily basis.	I am not a great fitness person. Control my eating.	Early mornings, Day has to start early.
One signal that tells me there is a problem.	Clues when reading between the lines.	Eyes never lie.	Drooping shoulders or tense faces.	Unhappy people.	The first customer response.
One technique for handling anger.	Hold your breath and walk away.	Yoga.	Breathe slower.	Sleep over it.	Do not make the situation worse by responding immediately.
One essential ingredient in my investment portfolio.	Waiting for returns.	Alternative energy.	Land bank.	Equities.	Stocks -- diversified (very few of IT stocks).
One good thing about the new generation.	They have great opportunities.	Fresh thought.	They are open to experimentation and know exactly what they want.	Confidence.	Exposure.
One worrying thing about the young.	Less time given to thinking, highly excitable.	Drugs and fanatic religion.	They can be stubborn and that may ruin their future.	They want everything very fast and they get it too, so the real skills are not developing.	No concept of outdoors, interpersonal relationships.
One thing that clinches a deal.	Patience, perseverance.	Know the weak points in my counterpart.	A clear win-win between the partners.	Trust.	Relationship.
One definition of values.	Relationship.	Values are the key to success.	Reaction to a certain situation based on a pattern of reasoning.	Integrity.	Trust.
One way that I use for resolving conflicts.	Silence, thus avoiding arguments.	Tell a story and smile.	Discuss things openly.	Communicate. Get people to meet and discuss face to face.	Dialogue.
One favourite activity when travelling.	Reading.	Read good books.	Play chess on my mobile.	Reading.	Reading.
One indicator of performance.	Perseverance.	Income.	Consistent enthusiasm over a long duration.	Happy customers.	Achieving results early.
One macroeconomic variable I keenly watch.	Strategy.	Growth.	Inflation and the stock market.	GDP growth.	Stock market, country ratings.
One dream I'd like to chase, later in life.	A pioneer in everything I do.	To travel around Asia.	Music... I would like to play the Santoor.	Help others achieve their dreams.	A second stint in a university.
One good way to foster innovation.	Risk.	Studying new findings.	Be ready to delegate and allow the person to do the task independently.	Get feedback from customers.	Brainstorming.
One clue that tells me I'm the leader.	Patience.	Results.	My colleagues look up to me for solutions in their personal lives too.	When people listen to me even if they don't have to.	The need to constantly strategise and make decisions.
